

OLD BOOK STILL IS IN GREAT DEMAND

"PROTECTION AND FREE TRADE"
BY HENRY GEORGE TO BE WIDELY CIRCULATED

Chicago, March 5.—A fund to pay for a million copies of Henry George's "Protection or Free Trade" the book which was credited with electing Grover Cleveland 20 years ago, was started at a conference in Chicago recently at which it was declared that the tariff problems of today will be the main issues this year in the presidential contest. How more than a million copies of the George book were circulated during the Cleveland-Harrison campaign was related by Henry George, Jr.: "Six members of the house divided the book among them, and each, under the leave to print" privilege, introduced a section into the 'Record' as part of his remarks during a debate on wool. These members were Hon. Tom L. Johnson, of Ohio; Hon. William J. Stone, of Kentucky; Hon. Joseph E. Washington, of Tennessee; Hon. George W. Fithian, of Illinois; Hon. Thomas Bowman, of Iowa and Hon. Jerry Simpson, of Kansas. By an old rule, whatever appears in the 'Record' is privileged to be sent through the mails free under a congressional frank. 'Protection or Free Trade' had therefore become frankable. Funds were raised by popular subscription to meet the expense of printing. Tom Johnson and many others believed that the most telling agency in that result was the circulation of that 'Record.' The Fels Fund commission of Cincinnati will at once undertake a tariff educational campaign with a new edition of the book at 2½ cents a copy to cover the bare cost of printing and handling. Each book will be enclosed in sealed, franked envelope. Only two other economic works have ever surpassed it in actual copies printed—Adam Smith's 'Wealth of Nations' and Henry George's 'Progress and Poverty.'

Peaches in March
Peaches in March no longer are the impossibility of tradition, for they are on the menu cards at hotels de luxe in Chicago but at 50 cents each. Some surprising peach grower in South Africa has found a variety which will stand shipment so far and has opened up a new market. On the same menu are English hot-house grapes at $7.75 per bunch and a special variety of the great American apple, which is put into steward's French as "Delioloso" although it is the Stark Delicious of commerce, served uncooked, at 20 cents each and sometimes more. There also are Tabasco bananas, the finest in the world in size and flavor and apricots from Africa at a price which reflects the time, trouble and expense involved in getting them. The peaches in California are but now in bud and those of Georgia will not bloom for months so that the stewards are as proud of their menu item of South African peaches as they are of the Cape of Good Hope apricots just below it among the fruit delicacies, which now include strawberries and cream at $1.75. Nowadays, on the verge of the "fruitless" days, a fine discrimination about fruit is only more important to the steward of a big hotel than the privilege to list bottled milk from the dairy wife of a millionaire.

WOMAN'S MOST SUCCESSFUL MEDICINE

Known All Over The World
—Known Only For The Good It Has Done.

We know of no other medicine which has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women, or received so many genuine testimonials, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In nearly every community you will find women who have been restored to health by this famous medicine. Almost every woman you meet knows of the great good it has been doing among suffering women for the past 30 years.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health, in which many openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, many of whom state that it has saved them from surgical operations.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is made from roots and herbs, and is perfectly harmless.

The reason why it is so successful is because it contains ingredients which act directly upon the female organism, restoring it to healthy and normal activity.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

Auto Fire Engines
The first automobile fire engine in Chicago proved more of an attraction than a presidential candidate, for it involved the fear that the spectacular dash to a fire would soon be relegated to the things of yesterday. When the engine first rolled up to the city hall, making a terrible roaring, the crowd that gathered packed the sidewalks. It made so much noise the management of a theater were alarmed the audience might believe the house on fire. The wheel spokes are three inches thick and the crank shaft weigh 185 pounds. It has a speed of 35 miles an hour. It is the first automobile engine built complete in the United States, and on this point Chicago claims the lead, although there are six other fire fighting autos in the country.

Bird Immigrants
A thousand bird immigrants which arrived in Chicago from Europe, Asia and Africa for the game preserves nearby, at Oak Park, of Wallace Evans promise some novelties in the replacement of the native game birds, a subject to which Mr. Evans has given years of study. The first ones to land were four Australian black swans which were hoisted out of their crates by their necks. They headed for the pond but contrary to American custom the first one started to drink up his bath water. The Nile geese staggered as they left the crate. They had not been taking regular exercise for some time. Something had happened to their propellers, too. Among the species brought over were spurred-winged geese, African wild geese from Lake Tehad, teal from Lake Balkal, Formosan teal, wild wood pigeons from England, shell drakes from Holland, Hungarian partridge, American wood ducks raised in Europe, and Lady Amherst pheasants from the barren and hilly parts of Tibet. Mr. Evans has thousands of pheasants on his preserve, the largest number in captivity anywhere.

Immigration to Canada
Comparisons made officially between the number of settlers from the United States who crossed to western Canada and those who returned have been made by Herbert Vanderhoof, of Chicago, editor of "Canada Monthly," as follows: To Canada, 1 year to April 1, 1911, 121,451; to Canada, 10 months to February 1, 1912, 111,706; returned, 1 year to August 15, 266; returned, 6 months to February 15, 216. "Now 216 returning settlers in six months is very far from 'thousands,'" Mr. Vanderhoof says in verification of his statements that false reports have been circulated, "and when it is compared with the great influx of American farmers seeking homes in the fertile lands of the prairie provinces it is a ridiculously small percentage. The official figures given out by the department of agriculture show that in 1911 Canada's field crops occupied a total area of 22,853,000 acres, and their value, calculated at the average local market prices, amounted to $565,712,100. Less than one-third of this total field crop acreage was sown to wheat, two-thirds of Canada's yield being composed of oats, rye, barley, flax, root crops, etc. Canada did produce 215,851,000 bushels of wheat, valued at $138,567,000 in 1911. But Canada's oats in 1911 were worth $126,512,000; barley $23,004,000; flax $19,467,000; and the combined area under rye, peas, buckwheat, mixed grains and flax yielded 44,986,000 bushels, valued at $41,550,000. Hoed and cultivated crops comprising beans, corn for husking, potatoes, turnips and other roots, except sugar beets, yielded $73,290,000 to the Canadian farmer; sugar beets alone brought him another $1,165,000; fodder crops including fodder corn, hay, clover and alfalfa showed an acreage of 8,250,000, and were worth $161,314,000. This doesn't sound like an all-wheat country, does it? And it takes into no account the value of cattle, dairy products, poultry, horses, sheep, swine, etc., which amounts to hundreds of millions, the Canadian home trade for cream alone being approximated by the recent Canadian Dairyman's convention at eight million dollars, and the great ranches of western Canada exporting beef to the United States and Great Britain in immense quantities."

Loan Sharks Brought to Bay
Loan sharks of Chicago have been brought to bay by the systematic fight against them of the Chicago Tribune, which has enlisted a score of lawyers to defend victims of extortion. So much headway has been made in compelling the loan offices to accept their principal with 7 per cent interest, instead of 12 per cent a month and sometimes, with special payments and other assessments that an organization which includes 60 of the loan sharks has begun to show signs of relenting. Many of the men whose money is invested in the loan offices and whose incomes are from usurious loans, have been exposed to their acquaintances, some of them being socially prominent and respected in the belief that their business is other than that of ruthless money grabbing from the needy. Several are active church workers in their communities, the last one to be exposed being not only a church member, but interested in a certain way in philanthropic enterprises.

RAILROAD LABOR COMBINING
Kansas City, Mo., Mar. 5.—Delegates representing the shop trades on every western railroad are to hold a conference here this week with a number of prominent labor leaders and representatives of the various other branches of organized railroad labor, to perfect the details of a gigantic combination or confederation of all the mechanical trades on the railroads west of the Mississippi river. A great deal of preparatory work has been done already, but there is still much to be done before this far-reaching plan can be brought to full maturity.

In a general way the complete plans contemplate the formation of a territorial organization of railroad employees that will include every railroad operating west of the Mississippi river. Before this ultimate result can be achieved, it will be necessary to perfect a system of federations of the various organized crafts of every one of the western railroads.

Heretofore the mechanical trades of the various railroads were not federated with the other trades of their respective lines and in case of a strike they had no support from the other trades. The railroad companies, having an understanding among themselves, helped each other and the strikers were invariably defeated. Realizing that their weakness was due to the lack of a thorough understanding between the railroad employees, a movement was started to bring the various trades into closer touch and to form not only federations of the mechanical trades of all western railroads, but also system federations, including combinations on every railroad between the mechanical and the traffic trades of that railroad, in other words a federation of the shopmen with the engineers, firemen, conductors and brakemen of each system.

After these plans have been carried to full completion, the labor leaders believe, the mechanical trades will be in a position to bring sufficient pressure to bear upon the railroads to obtain from them the granting of their wage demands hitherto refused. Demands will be made on all railroads in the same territory at the same time, so that all those railroads will be involved at the same time, should a strike be called. Even if the railroads should be inclined to resist the demands of the shopmen, they will, it is believed, be compelled to yield, if the shopmen are fully supported by the brotherhood organizations of the other branches of work on the same railroad system.
